

Community Guidelines

Welcome to TorahNet! Our community is built on mutual respect, understanding, and a commitment to providing a positive learning experience for everyone. These guidelines are designed to ensure a safe, respectful, and productive environment for all users. By using TorahNet, you agree to adhere to these guidelines.

General Guidelines

1. Respect and Tolerance

- All users must respect each other's cultural, religious, and personal differences.
- Discriminatory, offensive, or hateful behavior will not be tolerated.

2. Constructive Communication

- Communicate respectfully and constructively at all times.
- Avoid using harsh or derogatory language.

3. Confidentiality and Privacy

- Respect the privacy of others. Do not share personal information without consent.
- All interactions and communications on the platform should be kept confidential.

4. Intellectual Property

- Respect intellectual property rights. Do not use or share content without proper attribution or permission.

5. Compliance with Laws

- Adhere to all applicable laws and regulations while using the platform.

Student-Specific Guidelines

1. Engagement and Participation

- Be punctual and prepared for your lessons.
- Participate actively and respectfully in classes.

2. Feedback

- Provide constructive feedback to help improve the learning experience.
- Use the platform's review system responsibly and fairly.

3. Communication with Teachers

- Communicate with teachers respectfully, taking into account their cultural and religious practices.
- Respect teachers' boundaries and availability.

4. Cancellations and Rescheduling

- Follow the platform's policies for cancelling and rescheduling lessons.

- Provide as much notice as possible if you need to cancel or reschedule.

Teacher-Specific Guidelines

1. Professionalism

- Conduct yourself professionally at all times.
- Be punctual and prepared for your lessons.

2. Cultural Sensitivity

- Be mindful and respectful of students' cultural and religious backgrounds.
- Create an inclusive and welcoming learning environment.

3. Content and Curriculum

- Ensure that your teaching content is accurate, appropriate, and respectful.
- Avoid sharing any content that could be considered offensive or inappropriate.

4. Communication with Students

- Communicate with students respectfully, considering their diverse backgrounds.
- Be responsive to students' questions and feedback.

5. Cancellations and Rescheduling

- Follow the platform's policies for cancelling and rescheduling lessons.
- Provide as much notice as possible if you need to cancel or reschedule.

Reporting Violations

If you encounter any behavior that violates these guidelines, please report it to our support team at admin@torah-net.com. We take all reports seriously and will take appropriate action to address any issues.

Consequences of Violations

Violations of these guidelines may result in actions such as warnings, suspension, or termination of your TorahNet account. The severity of the action will depend on the nature and frequency of the violations.

Updates to Guidelines

TorahNet reserves the right to update these Community Guidelines at any time. Users will be notified of any changes through the platform, and it is your responsibility to review the guidelines periodically.

Contact Information

For questions or concerns regarding these Community Guidelines, please contact our support team at torah-net.com.